Macramé Bracelet with Frosted Beads

Instructions No. 1479

Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 40 Minutes

Self-knotted bracelets with frosted beads look great and certainly go well with many fashionable clothes. Make them yourself right away!

Here's how it's done:

You will need a waxed dark brown Cotton cord of about 40 cm in length. Attach the Cord to a small plate or a small piece of cardboard using a piece of wire. Thread about 12 to 15 frosted beads on the Cord and fix the beads with a (detachable) knot at the bottom of the wire.

Cut another piece of Cotton cord of about 1 m, push this thread crosswise under the first Cord, about 6 to 7 cm below the end of the beads. On each side of the beads should now be about 50 cm of thread

Now make 3 weaver knots. Lead the Cord past the first Pearl and fix it with another weaver knot. The next beads will also be embedded into the Bracelet in this way. As soon as the weaving threads have passed the last Pearl , lead them around the knotted end of the middle cord and make approx. 11 to 12 further weaver knots. Bracelet will thus have a length of approx. 17 cm and can be slightly widened or narrowed at the knotted Ribbon . Knot the ends of the thread and cut them off.
