Animals with flock powder

Instructions No. 1954

Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 1 hour

You love the softness of velvet? Why not create papier-maché figures, chests, boxes and much more. By sprinkling viscose flock powder on them, you can give them a noble, velvety surface and make them look beautiful as well. With little effort you can create great eye-catchers.

So they develop velvety animals:

First prime your chosen animal with Handicraft paint. For this purpose, it is best to use the colour that is most similar to the viscose flock powder. Of course you can also choose and paint a chest, box or any other decoration object and then use the flock powder to decorate it

After drying, brush your pet with VBS Handicraft glue and sprinkle it with the viscose flock powder. Allow to dry. Then tap off the excess flock powder.

With the different animals Powder additional accents were set in addition to the velvety softness

On the dolphin, we added Glitter Flaky Glue to create beautiful effects.

For the flying pigs, we primed the wings with Maja Stardust Gold , painted Handicraft glue them and sprinkled them with silver glitter. This makes the wings glitter now and creates a nice contrast to the flock powder

The excess flock powder on the workstation can be filled back into the can. Simply remove the spreader insert.

The brushes with Handicraft glue can be washed out under running water.
