Birch slice wreath with flowers

Instructions No. 3686

Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 1 hour

With this natural wreath made from birch slices, you can create a decorative wall or door decoration in no time at all. The combination of wood and artificial plants creates a timeless look. The wreath can be customized with just a few materials and simple steps.

Create a wreath from birch slices

Step 1: Prepare the basic shape

To make the wreath nice and round, place a round placeholder (e.g. a bowl or a ring) in the middle of your work surface. Place a row of birch slices evenly around the placeholder.

Step 2: Build a stable wreath

Glue with handicraft glue a second and then a third layer of birch slices onto the first layer. Make sure that each new slice is staggered over two underlying wooden discs layers. This gives the wreath the stability it needs. Then allow the glue to dry thoroughly.

Step 3: Attach the artificial plants

Cut the artificial plants to the desired length using side cutters. Then glue them decoratively to the wreath using hot glue.

Step 4: Attach the suspension

Finally, attach the ribbon to the wreath for hanging.
