For many people, nutcrackers are an integral part of the Advent and Christmas season as a Christmas decoration. They symbolise good luck and, due to their strong teeth, are believed to be able to keep enemies and evil spirits away. So what do you think about making these popular good luck charms yourself! We've got a great, simple idea for you here.

First saw one round stick per arm to 4.5 cm for the arms. Paint them with the craft paints chimney red, moss green or gray. Leave the paint to dry.

Now paint the wooden spools: the lower part in black, the upper part in gold and the middle in red, moss green or gray to match the arms.

Then paint the clay pots in black and the polystyrene balls in ivory. Use a bamboo skewer to add golden accents. For clean edges, you can use masking tape. Allow the colors to dry completely.

Now glue the arms and head to the wooden spools using hot glue. next, transfer the free template for the hair and beard to the craft felt and cut everything out. Glue these parts and the terracotta pot-hat on.

Glue a pompom onto the hat. Finally, paint the nose and cheeks red and glue on wobbly eyes .
